It was suspended from the opposite ends of the bridge by chains and raised into place by powerful jacks.

NOT GUILTY IS THE PLEA OF ACCUSED MAN

Gast B. Means, Accused of Murdering Mrs. Maude King, Now on Trial and Represented by Eight Attorneys.

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Concord, N. C., September 24.—At the beginning of the preliminary hearing of Gaston B. Means on the charge of murder in the killing of Mrs. Maude A. King, Means entered a plea of not guilty.

As his preliminary trial started today, he asked through his counsel for the hearing to be held before another magistrate other than A. B. Palmer. Under the law this request was granted and Magistrate C. A. Pitts took his place to conduct the hearing.

Means was represented by eight attorneys headed by Frank I. Osborne, of Charlotte.
Attorney General Manning sat with the prosecution, of which Solicitor Clement was the head. Assistant district attorney Dooling of New York completed the list of attorneys for the state.

SAYS PISTOL NOT HELD BY VICTIM

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Concord, N. C., September 24.—Dr. W. M. Burnelster, chief coroner's physician of Chicago, testified that in his opinion it would have been impossible for Mrs. King to have held the pistol which inflicted the death wound on August 29. Means had testified that Mrs. King accidentally shot herself and that he was several yards away.

Dr. Burnelster testified that there were no powder marks around the wound to support the theory that Mrs. King's own hand had held the gun.

Lawyers and criminal experts from three states are present at the hearing, the object of which is to bind Means over to the grand jury.
Solicitor Clement asked Dr. Burnelster if it would have been possible for Mrs. King to have inflicted the wound herself. The defense objected that this was not the question for an expert, but a matter of common knowledge, and also that Burnelster had not qualified as an expert on pistols, even if it were granted that the question was an expert one.

Columbus, Sept. 24.—Blowing safe in the office of the Home Furnishing company, dealers in household goods, yeggmen got away with more than $1,000 in money and checks.

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Columbus, O., September 24.—Construction of the new governor's mansion in this city, for which the legislature made an appropriation of $125,000 last winter, will not be started before next spring. This was decided upon this week at a meeting of the commission in charge of the project. The commission is composed of ex-Governors James E. Campbell of Columbus; Myron T. Herrick, of Cleveland and Judson Harmon of Cincinnati.

With labor and materials scarce, the commission doubted whether advantageous bids for the work could be obtained at this time. They pointed out that the state had gotten along without a governor's mansion to date, and that the building of such an edifice could be further postponed without injury.

The Governor ordered a hearing for tomorrow noon.

Later he was temporarily released and has since been confined in New York.

Whether the total number will be called at one time or whether they will be drawn at different intervals is not yet known.

War Commission Episcopalians Meet

The war commission of the Protestant Episcopal church is in session in a completed portion of the new St. Alban's cathedral in Washington and plans to raise half million dollars to maintain a bishop of the church in Europe, who will look after the spiritual interests of the American soldiers there. The commission is composed of six bishops, six clergymen and six laymen.

Important Action Is Indicated by Heavy Gun Duel Along the British and French Fronts.

British Repulse German Assault Sunday, and Make Counter Stroke. Russians Take Prisoners.

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Heavy cannonading was again in progress on the Flanders front last night but the infantry was relieved from the hard fighting.

Field Marshal Haig reports that when the Germans assaulted the British lines near Langemarck yesterday they did not gain any ground but were repulsed and lost ground in a British counter drive.

Signs of possible important activity impending are apparent in other sections of the British front near the Arras region and vicinity of Lens, which city is being closely pressed by the Canadians.

Considerable artillery activity is reported from these sections. The artillery on both sides is notably busy on the French front in the Verdun region.

Taking the offensive in the Dvina region the Russian forces captured the German positions they attacked in this region, retaining them after a hard struggle. The German losses were more than 400 in killed and the Russians took a number of prisoners and 100 machine guns.

HORSE GONE SOLDIER IS SUSPECTED

Thief Takes Fine Horse and Good Buggy From Madison Mills Saturday Night—Outfit Belongs to Coke McArthur—Member Company M Also Goes at Same Time.

A valuable driving horse and a good buggy, owned by Coke McArthur, of near Madison Mills, were stolen about 8:30 Saturday night, and with the disappearance of the horse and buggy, the simultaneous disappearance of Seymour Williams, member of Company M and believed to be a deserter, was announced, leading the police to believe that the outfit was driven away by the man.

When the theft was reported to the authorities in this city an investigation was started, and it was speedily learned that Williams had been at his home near Derby, Saturday noon, and was carrying his rifle, wore a uniform under a sweater and overalls, and had left, going in the direction of Madison Mills.

It was further stated that a man answering Williams' description had appeared at Madison Mills, and that he disappeared about the time that the horse and buggy disappeared from the rack at Madison Mills.

The horse had been driven to the town by an employee of the McArthur farm, and had not been standing long at the rack when it was missed.

The matter was taken up at once and when called to the attention of Chief Moore and the facts placed before him, he communicated with the boy's mother and learned that Williams had been home Saturday noon.

He also learned other matters which seemed to support the suspicion.

The horse was brown in color, and thin in flesh. The buggy was a good end-spring buggy, and the harness had been used some two years.

Notices have been sent to all surrounding towns, and it is believed that it will only be a question of time until the thief and outfit are located.

There is every indication that the man suspected deserted from Camp Mills, while on guard duty, as he is alleged to have carried his rifle, and still wore his uniform, the uniform being covered up by a sweater and overalls.

While Miss Georgiabel Hays, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Hays, of near South Charleston, formerly of the Lewis pike, this Co. was alone at her home, Saturday afternoon, a thief visited the homestead, and compelling Miss Hays to remain quiet, ransacked the house, obtaining about $100, after which he escaped into a 40-acre corn field and could not be located.

LITTLE GIRL MEETS DEATH IN POSTHOLE

20 Months Old Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray E. Brown, Near New Holland, Smothers to Death in Posthole Into Which She Had Fallen Head First.

Little Virginia Maude Brown, 20 months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Brown, residing a short distance south of New Holland, and who formerly resided near this city, met death, Saturday evening by falling head first into a post hole and smothering to death before her whereabouts could be ascertained.

The work of erecting a fence near the Brown home was under way, and some of the postholes had been left open, and were about 3 feet in depth and some ten inches in diameter.

The child had wandered from the house, and when the parents went to search for her a few moments later she was nowhere to be found, until after a search of some little time had been made and the body of the little girl found, head downward, in one of the holes.

The terrified mother removed the body and a physician was summoned, working with the child for one hour or longer, but life was extinct.

The funeral services were held Monday morning at the M. E. church in New Holland, and interment was made in the New Holland cemetery.

REBUILDING OF THE CHILLICOTHE PIKE IS URGED

Residents Along Important Highway Anxious to Have Extensive Repair Work in Order to Meet Heavy Traffic—640 Machines Pass Over Road in 12 Hours.

In the face of an increase of several times the usual amount of traffic over the Chillicothe pike, due to the training camp at Chillicothe, residents along that road where it has not been paved are beginning to want the improvement of the road under the state aid plan, and it is expected that sentiment will rapidly materialize in a formal request for speedy improvement of the pike.

Part of the road is in fair condition, and the remainder is rapidly deteriorating under the great increase of automobile travel, so that the desire for speedy attention to the road seems to be well grounded. Some residents are urging repair of an extensive nature this fall, or at least sufficient to carry the road through the winter and until the road can be rebuilt.

One resident along the road a few miles southeast of this city counted the number of automobiles passing over the road from seven o'clock Sunday morning until seven o'clock Sunday evening, and the average was nearly one each minute, or 640 machines during the time.

This does not mean that the entire number of machines passing in one day was 640, as a large number passed before and after the hours named, so that the real number of automobiles was near the 750 or 800 mark.

Not only is the Sunday traffic heavy, but the week-day traffic has increased several fold, and the wear on the road is very heavy.

Under the new law the county's charges can be taken to some convenient school, and in order to do this in Fayette county it has been necessary to purchase a new wagon in which all of the youngsters are accommodated.

Monday morning the 34 children old enough to attend school were placed in the new wagon and taken to Bloomingburg, where the school opened on Monday, and were assigned places with the other children of Bloomingburg, so they may have educational advantages similar to that of other children.

The wagon is to be driven by Superintendent Pinkerton or some responsible employee of the Home farm, and morning and night the wagon will make the trip of three miles to and from Bloomingburg.

Meanwhile, although some of the work at the home is lessened by the absence of the 34 youngsters, 34 lunches must be prepared daily, and other new attentions given the boys and girls.

SUFFRAGE REFERENDUM FIGHT IS ASSUMING A LOCAL INTEREST

Following up the ruling of Judge Rathnell in their efforts to prevent a referendum election this fall on the Reynolds presidential suffrage act, passed by the last General Assembly, the Woman's Suffrage Association of Fayette county has served notice on the local Board of Deputy State Supervisors of Elections that they must check up all referendum petitions filed with the Secretary of State, from this county, and state in their certificate specifically the number of names on such petitions written in ordinary pencil, the number of forged, traced, repeated and illegal names and the number of all other names which do not comply, in every way, with the requirements of the law.

Any failure to do so, the Board members are notified, will be questioned in court.

Fayette county, local suffrage leaders claim, is one of the twenty-two counties in the state where irregularities in the signatures to the petitions filed are found to exist.

The turn brings the suffrage referendum fight down to the local field, and it is possible that some very interesting developments may occur.

YOUNG STRANGER DIES AT HOSPITAL

James Summers, aged 20 years died Saturday evening at five o'clock at the Fayette Hospital after a week's illness of pneumonia.

He was employed by Messrs. H. S. and George Harper well known horse buyers of Atlanta Georgia, who have been buying a great number of horses here for the army.

Messrs. Harper by whom the young man had been employed for some time and with whom he came here, to assist in the work of buying horses at this point, were particularly grieved over his death. During his short sickness they gave every care and attention possible.

The death of young Summers was particularly sad far away from his home in the sunny southland with no relatives at hand to comfort him in the last hours. He was a great favorite with his employers and all with whom he came in contact in the work.

The father Charles Summers and brother arrived here Sunday evening leaving for East St. Louis Monday morning at 9:45 with the remains.

RECORD OF EVERY MAN IN BIG CAMP

Data Pertaining to Each Conscription Will be Kept in Systematic Form at Camp Sherman.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., September 24.—An unusually complete record of every recruit in the big training camp here—a record which will show the drafted man's previous occupations and his qualifications—is being compiled by army officers. The record is being made so that every man, whether a lawyer or a machinist, can be called upon to use his talents in helping Uncle Sam win the war.

The check on the men will be so wonderful that if Major General E. F. Glenn, in charge of the camp, should need a blue-eyed, auburn headed carpenter, with a Roman nose—a carpenter with five years' experience, weighing 135 pounds and standing six feet in his socks—such a carpenter could be obtained from the ranks in a few minutes.

Should someone else in authority want a barber, who could play a horn in a brass band or who could do cabinet making, so also could that individual be obtained—and obtained quickly—from among the 43,000 National Army recruits. The camp, officers say, is composed of men from practically every known art, trade, science, profession, calling, habit or otherwise.

The "qualification record" of every man in camp is being compiled under direction of an expert system man from the Westinghouse Electric Company of Pittsburgh. It will show a lot of things about each individual—enough that a glance at the individual's card will show immediately whether a carpenter is a "hammer and saw" or "jackleg," or whether he is a "real carpenter"—his experience, salary when in civilian life, and other details.

The cards will show the name in full, past trade, job or occupation, how many years were spent in it, name of last employer, business of employer, address of employer, weekly wage; age of man, whether married or single, religion, whether man has had executive work, personality, if an expert at any occupation, kind of occupation, man's schooling, what foreign languages he speaks, talent of man for public entertainment, previous military experience, preference for a particular branch of the service, and many other minor details.

If a man is an expert at a certain occupation, the card will show it. If an expert in two, the card will show it. If an expert in one and a "tinkerer" at another, the card also will show it.

The five least important callings, so far as military service is concerned, are those of the factory worker, farmer, laborer, lawyer and teacher.

Here are the occupations that army officers say are important in the recruit's new service "for democracy." Machinist, blacksmith, wheelwright, carpenter, concrete foreman, electrician, dynamo expert, gunsmith, locksmith, miner, painter, pipe-fitter, railroad traffic man, section hand, railroad fireman, steam engineer, rigger, sheet metal worker, foundryman, graduate engineer, automobile driver, motor-truck driver, automobile and gas engine repair man, horseshoer, mule packer, veterinarian, farrier, draftsman, surveyor, telegrapher, wireless operator, lineman, telephone repairman, telephone operator, photographer, moving picture expert, navigator, seaman, accountant, bookkeeper, clerk, shipper, stock keeper, stenographer, baker, cook, butcher, grocer, chiropractor, dentist, druggist, doctor, nurse, medical student, band player, orchestra player, barber, canvas worker, harnessmaker, shoemaker, tailor, watch-maker, or "if you are an expert in any other occupation not mentioned in these columns, write it the card directs.

Such a card is given to every man in camp and bears his company and regiment number. The cards will be filed and the "right man" will be picked for the "right job," and picked in a hurry, too.

More Disclosures

The State department, in its latest disclosures of the actual operations of that Hohenzollern diplomacy which talks peace and plots murder, made public Saturday evening, furnishes additional evidence in support of those close observers who have, for some time now, been asserting, that no nation can be neutral in this war.

The Hohenzollern war party in control of Germany and Austria-Hungary will not permit any nation to be neutral—they must serve the devilish ambition and purposes, do the bidding of the Kaiser and his war mad junkers or they must be driven into the ranks of the allies as open hostiles.

The Hohenzollern war power knows no neutrality because it knows no honesty.

One after another the supposedly neutral nations are shown, by the facts, carefully secreted from all until the United States secret service men unearthed them, to have been serving the German war powers.

Holland is now, by the latest revelation, shown to have been badly enmeshed. So has every other neutral nation—else they would not have been permitted to maintain the form of neutrality.

The time arrived sometime ago but it has not appeared as clearly as it does now, in the light of the amazing disclosures, for the allies to change, radically, their policy of dealing with neutral nations.

Open alliance with Germany, especially by Holland, Sweden and Denmark would be far more helpful to the cause of the allies than is the holding of a sham neutrality, which the allies sacredly respect and the Prussian war lords use for their own advantage.

The war has been prolonged now by a mistaken idea of duty towards supposed neutral nations. Neutral nations have not treated the allies fairly—their real or supposed, necessities forbade that and the allies might as well face that fact.

Humanity demands a change in policy in the treatment of neutrals.

The Season's Plenty

Corn cutting begins in real earnest this week. In every part of the county wherever the services of the men, who wield the long wicked looking, but very necessary, knives can be obtained, the farmers will be putting away, safe in the shock, what is perhaps, in bushels and certainly in dollars and cents, the biggest corn crop the county has ever recorded.

The serious apprehension about weather conditions—prolonged dry spells or prolonged wet spells—is behind us now. So far as the great portion of the corn crop is concerned Jack Frost can come and spread his mantle of white on the roofs to glisten in the morning sun whenever he feels inclined now.

Here in this beautiful ideal farming section where the wealth of the nation—the wealth of the world in fact—is seen in the making, we have never experienced more prosperous times.

In the great wealth of the present though we must not forget the future. Nature may not be so prodigally generous with us next year and certainly the man power will be reduced while the demands which a hungry world will make on America will increase.

We should enjoy the present to the limit, be thankful of our abundance, but at the same time we should remember that after today comes tomorrow and what the tomorrow seasons will bring no man can tell. We hope peace and more of plenty.

Governor Ferguson Ousted

Real political reform—the substantial not the noisy kind—has reached Texas judging from the conviction of Governor Ferguson by the state senate on impeachment charges and his removal from office.

The time has come in American politics when those who aspire to public office must “come clean” and when those who succeed in attaining to high place in the official life must demean themselves, in all respects, as law abiding citizens.

The time has passed by forever when success in politics means immunity from punishment for misdeeds.

The fate of Governor Sulzer of New York and Governor Ferguson of Texas are proof, if any proof was needed, that the old regime has passed away forever.

There never was a time when the demand for the services, in positions of importance in both nation and state, of clean thinking, clean acting men, was greater than at present.

No man can serve the public, in any capacity, to advantage, when he is conscious that someone “has something on him.”

A guilty conscience will make a coward and a knave of any man and this is no time for men with anything else on their minds to be entrusted with the tremendous duties of the hour.

Wonderful progress has been made during the last decade by the American people but nowhere is it more pronounced than in the political life of the nation.

Poetry For Today

AN English Woman's Tribute.

Hail to thee! Bright land of Fame,
proud home of Liberty;
As mighty as the crest'd sea, as boundless and as free!
Hail to thee! Whose sons ne'er felt a tyrant's selfish rule.
But learnt life's broader lesson in a more untrammell'd school.
We watch'd thee circling upward, like an eagle in its flight,
Aglow in all thy morning's pride—a rare and wondrous sight!
We saw thee rise from Custom's rut, where sects and bigots are,
And mount the high Empyrean to shine as Freedom's star.
Full well didst know what meant that light 'twas thine to set aglow
To those who liv'd in slavery—to bondmen down below!
And well didst choose these reefless seas to sail thy ship of State,
Afar from Regal shoals and rocks
where lie a Nation's fate.
As Freedom's own we honor thee—
the Freedom great and good—
But, best of all, we love thee best for tender Brotherhood!
—Helene Gingold.

AUTOPSY PERFORMED

(By American Press)

Louisville, Sept. 24.—The body of Mrs. Robert Worth Bingham, formerly Mrs. Henry M. Flagler, secretly was exhumed at Wilmington, N. C., shortly after midnight last Tuesday, at the instance of Mrs. Bingham's relatives, an autopsy performed in the presence of a detective of national reputation and several physicians, some of the vital organs removed and sent to New York, and the body presumably reinterred, according to a statement given out here by attorneys for Judge Bingham.

All this was done surreptitiously, the statement declares, the secret closely guarded until the object was accomplished, and adds: “It belongs to the public to form its own opinion of this ghostly drama.” “When, if ever,” the statement concludes, “whispered suspicion shall become an audible charge, such charge will be met with facts.”

When shown Judge Bingham's statement Dr. C. T. Nesbitt, county superintendent of health at Wilmington, N. C., admitted that no court order had been presented to him directing the disinterment of Mrs. Bingham's body, but again declined to say whether a permit for such a proceeding had been issued.

Efficient.—He—“I want you to help spend my salary.”
She—“Am I not doing that?”
He—“No, no; I mean forever and ever.”
She—“It won't take me as long as that.”—Lamb.

RECORD BREAKING ORDER IS PLACED WITH D. C. BRANCH

Forty Thousand Dozens of Pairs of Overalls and Jackets Ordered from the Dahl-Campbell Branch by United States Government—Order Biggest Single One So Far in Ohio.

What is believed to be the largest single order so far placed in Ohio by the United States Government, for equipment for the new National Army, was awarded to The Dahl-Campbell Branch of this city a day or two ago when purchase of 40,000 dozens of blue denim overalls and jackets, or 480,000 garments, was made.

This mammoth order was booked by Mr. Walter Jones, of the Notions Department of the firm, who dropped down to Chillicothe last Thursday and showed samples and gave prices on large quantities of the wearing apparel.

The first delivery will be made by the firm this week, and already vast quantities of the garments are moving toward this city by express and will be delivered from the immense plant of the firm in this city, the fleet of motor trucks being used to transport the garments from this city to the training camp at Chillicothe.

The magnitude of the order can hardly be realized, but some idea of the great amount of wearing apparel involved might be gleaned from the fact that it would require a train of several cars to move the big order.

COR. JAMES DUCEY SENDS INTERESTING LETTER TO MOTHER

Mrs. Ellen Ducey received today from her son, James, now “somewhere in France,” a letter in which he gives considerable information, considering the rigid censorship.

The most important bit of information to friends here is that it is now Corporal James Ducey, 18th Company, 5th Regiment, United States Marine Corps.

The date of the letter is omitted by order of the censor as is also the exact location.

That is a fine section of France though, is evident from this passage in young Ducey's letter:

“They raise great crops over here. Talk about fruit—well, say—we must be in the heart of the fruit country, for there is plenty of fruit of all kinds.”

“The people over here treat us fine,” he says, “and think the American soldier is the only thing.”

The corporal asks about his home folks and many friends. Says he is feeling fine and enjoying the service, talks of the home coming and promises to bring the young folks “something from France.”

MAY FREE LEHMAN

Toledo, Sept. 24.—The finding of several small coins in the grass at the farm home of Frederick Lehman, the Fulton county farmer charged with the murder of his wife as she lay asleep in her bed the night of Sept. 16, was the first evidence that Lehman was telling the truth when he said robbers attacked and beat him and later killed Mrs. Lehman. Near the coins also was found a small bank, which had been broken open and the coins removed.

OHIO NEWS

To Make Tags and Spin Cotton.

Columbus, Sept. 24.—As a result of his recent trip to various state prisons to study machinery and methods for turning out auto tags and yarn, Warden Thomas of Ohio penitentiary announced that all of the state's 700,000 or 800,000 tags for 1918 will be manufactured by convict labor at the cost of 10 cents each and that 500,000 yards of muslin will be spun in penitentiary looms.

Played With Revolver.

Columbus, Sept. 24.—Playing with a revolver he “didn't know was loaded,” Paul Jones, twelve, shot his playmate, Melvin Knox, nine, at the Knox home, during the absence of his parents. Young Jones found a 32-caliber revolver in a drawer. The ball struck the Knox lad, going through the right arm and into the body. He is lying at a hospital. The shooting marked the fourth within two weeks of its kind here.

Taken to Appeals Court.

Columbus, Sept. 24.—In an effort to gain complete victory, Ohio suffragists carried part of their suit against Secretary of State Fulton to the court of appeals. Common Pleas Judge Rathmell, before whom the suit was heard, gave partial victory to suffragists, but ruled that he had no jurisdiction in one contention, that of enjoining Fulton from counting as valid signatures on the referendum petitions from sixty-five counties, on the grounds that they were permeated with fraud. The petition filed with the higher court asks that it grant the injunction on the ground that the lower court acted in error.

DISCLOSURES BY LANSING ARE STARTLING

(By American Press)

Washington, Sept. 24.—Secretary of State Lansing made public another chapter of the story of German intrigue. The disclosure shows how Germany "shamelessly abused and exploited" the protection of the United States by secreting in the German legation at Bucharest, after the American government had taken charge of Germany's affairs at the Roumanian capital, quantities of powerful explosives for bomb plots and deadly microbes, with instructions for their use in destroying horses and cattle.

The story is told in a report to the state department from William Whitfug Andrews, secretary of the legation at Bucharest, and a letter from Foreign Minister Porubar of Roumania.

Parcels and boxes taken into the German consulate at Bucharest with display of great precaution aroused the suspicions of the Roumanian government. On Aug. 27, 1916, the evening prior to the date of Roumania's declaration of war, some of the cases were taken to the German legation, located in a different building from the consulate. Convinced that the boxes were not taken away from the legation by the German diplomatic mission on its departure from Bucharest, the Roumanian authorities later ordered the police to find and examine their contents. The police communicated with American Minister Vopicka, then in charge of German interests, who reluctantly assigned Secretary Andrews to observe the search. The boxes were found buried in the garden of the German legation. Mr. Andrews' report says:

"Upon my return from the examination which resulted in the discovery of the explosives and of the box of microbes, both of which the legation servants admitted having placed in the garden, the former confidential agent of the German minister, Dr. Bernhard, who had been left with the legation, at the German minister's request, to assist in the care of German interests, admitted his knowledge of the explosives placed in the garden; told me that more were in the garden than had been found; that a still larger quantity had been buried in the house of the legation, and that still worse things than this box of microbes were contained in the legation, and insinuated that they would have been found even in the cabinets of drawers which I had searched."

Dr. Bernhard also stated that all these objects had been brought to the German legation after our legation had accepted the protection of German interests, which agreed with the statement of the servants. A similar confession was made to the minister by this man.

The protection of the United States was in this manner shamefully abused and exploited. In this instance, at least, the German government can not have recourse to its usual system of denial. Fifty-one boxes were taken from the ground in the garden. Fifty of them contained each a cartridge filled with trinitrotoluene saturated with mononitrophenol, among the most powerful explosives known, one-fifth of each of one being sufficient to tear up a railroad track. In the other box were bottles of liquid found to be cultivations of the microbes of anthrax and glanders. It bore a seal showing it came from the German consulate at Kronstadt, Hungary.

RUSSIA TO REDUCE

(By American Press)

Petrograd, Sept. 24.—The provisional government has decided to reduce the number of men in the regular army. This decision was reached for two reasons: first, because the country can not remain longer without male labor, and, second, because it was thought desirable to relieve the army of men who are too old to fight or who have been wounded, and whose fighting capacity, therefore, is not great.

COMPLETE THE PLANS FOR DRY CAMPAIGN IN FAYETTE COUNTY

At a recent conference of some 16 members of the Fayette Dry Federation, with State Chairman Jas. A. White and Andrew Forsythe, of the National Anti-Saloon Association, definite plans for the dry campaign in Fayette county were made and steps are now being taken to place the plans into execution.

The local organization members were greatly pleased with the encouraging reports brought by the two men and are firmly convinced that the coming campaign will spell doom to the saloons in Ohio, and will work to increase the dry vote in Fayette county in order to make the result all the more decisive.

Preceding the conference the workers dined together at the Cherry Hotel, and then met at the Y. M. C. A. where full discussion of plans took place.

HEAVY TRAFFIC IS STOPPED BY TRAIN

About 5:30 o'clock Sunday evening a C. H. & D. train held South Fayette street crossing for some eight minutes, while attention was being given to a hot box and during that time 56 automobiles lined up awaiting an opportunity to cross, while a half dozen machines turned about and hunted another crossing.

This indicates to some extent the tremendous increase in traffic over the main arteries leading to Chillicothe.

PRESIDENT UPHOLDS DISTRICT BOARD

The President, according to dispatches from Washington, has denied the exemption of three Fayette county men who appealed from the Local and District Boards in efforts to obtain exemption.

The three men are: Frank Mayo, Austin Manley Rice and Charles Foster Winkle.

TO RUSH TROOPS ACROSS THE SEA

(By American Press)

Washington, Sept. 24.—Reports received by the war department from all of the divisional commanders show that the greatest troop mobilization the United States has ever witnessed has been a complete success.

More than 275,000 men selected to serve their country reported to the sixteen cantonments established for the training of the national army and the movement proceeded smoothly.

With the 5 per cent increment that went to camp early in the month the sixteen cantonments now house 305,000 privates and some 15,000 officers making a total of 320,000 men. This is only 45 per cent of the full quota of the national army. The other 55 per cent will go forward during October and November, the exact dates of the movements to be determined by the ability of the quartermaster's department to supply equipment. In any event the war department expects to have the new national army in camp and a considerable part of it through the rudiments of military training by the beginning of the new year.

Every energy of the war department is now being strained to secure quick results in sending an enormous army to France.

Coincident with the mobilization of the national army the war department makes it known that the first army for service in France will be composed of 42,000 officers, 1,082,270 enlisted men and 936 civilians. Under this plan the country will have more than 1,000,000 men in reserve after this first great army goes to the front. Already plans are being made for calling to the colors 500,000 more men designated under the selective draft system.

While it will not be possible for the United States to participate to any considerable extent in the fighting in France before next spring, even if it were prepared, which it is not, for the reason that this year's active campaign will come to an end in about six weeks, it is proposed to keep a steady stream of soldiers moving across the Atlantic.

Every effort is to be made to get this first army of 1,018,270 men on the front by next summer. As is generally known, the regulars are going first. Many of them already have gone and it will not be long until they are joined by national guard divisions, one after another. The Forty-second division, known as the Rainbow division, now assembled at Camp Mills, L. I., and the Twenty-sixth division, made up of New England troops, are, according to an official announcement made at the adjutant general's office, now fully equipped. These two divisions are to be the first of the national guard units to go. The regular army units and the national guard units together will form a force of 926,985 men. So it will be necessary to call on the so-called national army for less than 100,000 men to complete the first over-the-seas army.

MANY LISTEN TO SENATOR LA FOLLETTE

(By American Press)

Toledo, Sept. 24.—Denouncing war in general and the United States government in particular, Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin addressed a large gathering here under the auspices of "The People's Church," made up of Socialists, headed by Professor Scott Nearing. Mr. LaFollette attacked the American press, declaring it for the most part is controlled by the "war party," the financial interests of the country. He declared that the president of the United States swayed congress to such an extent that the declaration of war was not the representative opinion of a democratic government.

Tell them to go ahead

You might as well have the use of that building you are planning—there is nothing to be gained by waiting. There is no prospect of prices going down for some time after the war is over. Go ahead and let your contracts.

When it comes to the roof you can make a real saving, and get a better roof by specifying

Certain-teed Roofing

CERTAIN-TEED is not cheaper because the quality is lower, but because it is a less expensive roofing to manufacture. It is better, not only because it is cheaper, but also because it is light weight, weather-tight, clean, sanitary, fire-retardant and costs practically nothing to maintain.

It is now recognized as the preferable type of roofing for office buildings, factories, hotels, stores, warehouses, garages, farm buildings etc., where durability is necessary.

CERTAIN-TEED is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to thickness (1, 2 or 3 ply).

There are many roll roofings on the market, but only one CERTAIN-TEED. It pays to get the best. It costs no more to lay a CERTAIN-TEED roof than it does to lay a poor roof, but there is a vast difference in the wear. You can't tell the quality of a roofing by looks or feel. Your only safety is the label. Be sure that it is CERTAIN-TEED—then you are certain of quality and guaranteed satisfaction.

Certain-teed Slate-Surfaced Asphalt Shingles are supplanting wood and slate shingles for residences. They cost less, are just as good looking, wear better, won't fall off, buckle or split. They are fire-retardant, and do not have to be painted or stained.

Certain-teed Paints and Varnishes are the best quality paint materials, ground and mixed with mechanical accuracy. Made for all uses and in all colors. With paint, as with roofing, the name CERTAIN-TEED is a guarantee of quality and satisfaction.
